Installation and fitting

Some parts require mandatory installation by a qualified professional: engines, gearboxes, transfer cases, differentials, drivetrain components, turbochargers, and more generally any part requiring specific tools or advanced technical skills.

It is not possible to list every part concerned. If you are unsure whether professional installation is required for a specific part, please contact us before purchasing or installing it — we will confirm quickly whether a professional is required.

For any part requiring mandatory professional installation, fitting by a non-professional automatically and irrevocably voids the warranty, and BPL cannot be held liable for any resulting damage, direct or indirect.

For all other parts, professional installation remains strongly recommended.

Electronic parts and coding

Electronic parts (control units, modules, sensors, keys, etc.) may require initialization, programming or coding to the vehicle after installation. This must be carried out by a professional with suitable diagnostic equipment. BPL does not guarantee compatibility of this process with every diagnostic tool on the market.

Compatibility check

It is the Customer's sole responsibility to verify the compatibility of any ordered part with their vehicle (chassis number, version, year, engine) before purchase and before fitting. Compatibility information shown on the site is provided for guidance only and does not engage BPL's liability in case of incompatibility due to vehicle-specific factors.

Warranty by part condition

- New parts: covered by the legal warranty of conformity and against hidden defects.
- Reconditioned parts: inspected and restored according to our internal procedures, includes a 2-year warranty.
- Used parts: sold as-is, with wear consistent with prior use. Remaining lifespan is not guaranteed.

In all cases, the warranty is automatically and irrevocably voided in case of improper installation, non-compliance with manufacturer guidelines, or unauthorized modification/disassembly of the part after delivery.
